

FOREIGN-BORN, IN LETTERS, TELL OF AMERICA'S HELP

No Other Country Does So Much or Holds Out Such Opportunities.

Evening World, Evening World.

The writer has always considered America the best country in the world and has always openly expressed this when a point of conversation called for it. I was born in Ireland and have travelled over most of the world. But I have settled in America without leaving for ten years. Why?

First, because if I have a grievance on the job, or want a raise or better conditions, I can walk right into the boss's office, even in my dirty overalls, and he will generally reason with me. Could I do this in other countries? No.

Second, I get my money on time in a neat pay envelope, without waiting. My wages have always been at least 50 per cent. more than I got in other countries. And I will know a boss always tries to give you what the last job paid. Do they do those things in other countries? Not generally; even seldom.

Third, my boss, be he rich or otherwise, will converse with me about the work and almost anything. Do they do this in other countries? No. I know many employers and upstairs in England who never spoke to a workman.

Fourth, I can purchase a postal card at its face value. I can write cheaper in postage to almost any country in the world than they can write to me. Even my draft money brings more abroad. The banks and insurance companies are ruled by a law that makes my money safe; even my money interest is the greatest given.

Fifth, no matter what religion or nationality, no country gives such freedom as America. Even interpreters and counsel for the asking, and a passage home if circumstances call for it.

Sixth, the writer believes any person or family can prosper in the U. S. A. more than in any other country if they are thrifty, industrious, far seeing, respectful and faithful to the flag and what it stands for, always availing themselves of the advantages and protection it gives. I thank goodness, have prospered. The reasons are these: No credit, cash for all; never living above my means, but comfortably; always for myself and family put a little by for the rainy day. My thrifty, industry, honesty and fair dealings in general had to come to the U. S. A. for their reward. J. J. D.

America is a Country for the Poor. This Citizen Declares.

Evening World, Evening World.

I am sixty years of age, and have been a citizen for twenty-one years. This country has given my children a good education which they would not have got in Italy, where I was born. America is a country for the poor. It gives them a chance to educate their children. I came to this country without a nickel in my pocket and to-day I have several thousands of dollars in the bank, and own a three-family house, and all that I have I owe to this great and wonderful country of America. I

WHAT AMERICA HAS DONE FOR ME

What of the foreign-born who have lived in the United States and learned to admire and uphold its institutions and Government?

What of the aliens who have changed their allegiance for a loyal Americanism that will stick to them, their children and their children's children?

Now is the moment to hear from them.

Their testimony can be a powerful aid toward nullifying the destructive schemes of the aliens who stay alien.

What has America done for me that makes me believe it, as it stands, the best country in the world to live in?

For the most pointedly helpful letters from foreign-born, telling out of their own experience what benefits they have found in the United States that they could not have found in other countries, The Evening World offers prizes as follows:

A First Prize of $50; a Second Prize of $25; ten other prizes of $10 each; fifty prizes of $5 each.

Letters should not contain more than three hundred words. Ability to say much in a short space will count. Take time to be brief.

Under his signature at the end of the letter each writer should give, not necessarily for publication, his address, occupation, age, the name of the country from which he came, the length of time he has been in the United States and his status as to citizenship.

Address letters to Loyalty Editor, Evening World.

(Correspondents are requested to write replies on one side of paper only.)

LUMPS OF INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Instantly
Relieves Indigestion, Sour-ness, Stomach Acidity.

Undigested food! When your stomach is all upset, here is instant relief—no waiting!

The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the indigestion pain and dyspepsia distress caused by acidity is relieved.

Your disordered stomach will feel fine at once.

These pleasant, harmless tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralize the harmful acids in the stomach, and give almost instant relief; besides they cost so little at drug stores—Advt.

I may be prejudiced—but

"I've driven everything from a jitney to this five-ton baby; and I'll say Socony Gasoline suits me," remarked the chauffeur.

"It sure puts the punch and pep into an engine. No trouble starting in cold weather. When the going's bad or the road's steep, I just step on the gas, and believe me we get there."

"Another thing, you don't have to monkey with the carburetor all the time. Get it tuned up for Socony and your carburetor troubles are practically over."

"Of course, you can do as you please, but my advice is always fill up with Socony. It is always uniform. You'll have less engine troubles and get bigger mileage from your gas."

At filling time look for the red, white and blue Socony sign.

CHLOROX

The "Milled-in-Oil" Tooth Cleanser.
Cleanses Your Teeth with Oil

The wonderful oil contained in Chlorox tooth paste cleans teeth in the same manner that more common oils incorporated in facial creams remove impurities from the pores of the skin. Chlorox penetrates even hardened tartar deposits, softening them and freeing them from the teeth. It searches in the crevices of tooth enamel and under the overlapping portions of the gums, removing all impurities and massaging the gum tissues to healthy hardness over teeth that are perfectly clean. It lubricates teeth to preserve their cleanliness. It is assisted by a non-abrasive, finely milled brushing compound that polishes teeth without scratching enamel. Try a tube of Chlorox—the "Milled-in-Oil" Tooth Cleanser. Identify it by the blue and white checkered tube.
